

News from The Vines Academy Trust

The Trust is officially three years old this summer! The time has flown, but in that time, our school leaders have worked collaboratively to develop the work of each school and on improvement priorities across the whole Trust. We are aware that parents do not always hear about what we do, so we thought it important to share with you some aspects of the partnership work we have all benefited from. Being part of a Trust has allowed us to support each other through the challenges of the past few months, sharing good practice in remote learning and sense checking risk assessments and crisis management. This year, we joined with clergy and key staff to work on documents to support the new Relationships Education requirements and also to discuss how we reflect the Equalities Act in all our schools. Our schools have also been working together to research and develop effective feedback for pupils, and on developing good professional development models within each school. If you'd like to see more glimpses of what is happening across the Trust, you can follow us on Twitter @VinesTrust, or all our schools on Twitter or Facebook.

Jan Knox (Trust Leader), Anne Marlow (Chair of Trust Board)

